Group Contract

1. Group Members

List all group members and how to contact them (mail, phone,…).

Name	Contact Info
Patrick Radke	radkep@th-brandenburg.de
Julius Voigt	voigt@th-brandenburg.de
Vanessa Folte	vanessa.folte@th-brandenburg.de
Yannik Lehnhardt	lehnhard@th-brandenburg.de

2. Weekly Sync Meeting

Agree on a weekly time slot and venue to meet up and discuss the project and its progress.

Wann: Montag 14:15 – 16:00 Uhr

Wo: Bibliothek, Änderungen nach Absprache

3. Communication Ground Rules

Add more items that you feel are important for a successful project.

- Open, honest and respectful communication
- Listen.
- Don’t get personal.
- Take responsibility for your actions.
- Be reliable.
- Reach out, when you have problems.

4. Assignment Owners

Throughout the semester, there are multiple assignments to turn in.

Identify an owner for each assignment, who is responsible for completing the task and turning it in. This does not mean that the person must do the task themselves; instead, it is their responsibility to ensure that the job is getting done by the assigned parties, track progress and raise issues when necessary.

Each group member must own at least one task.

Assignment	Due Date	Owner
Group Contract	CW 14	Julius
Lab Report	CW 22	Vanessa
Concept Presentation	CW 17	Patrick
UML Activity Diagram	CW 19	Yannik
Shot List	CW 24	Julius
Interview Guide	CW 26	Vanessa
Project Report	Exam Day	Patrick
Video Documentation	Exam Day	Yannik
GitHub Repository	Exam Day	Yannik
Prototype	Exam Day	Vanessa

5. Conflict Management

Read the description of common conflict situations when working in groups. Discuss how you want to handle such conflict should it arise during the semester. Write down your approach to resolve the conflict.

I. A group member does not answer mails or calls, might not come to meetings.

- Persönlich aufsuchen (Vorlesung, Wohnheim, etc…)
- Höflich nachfragen
- Gemeinsam eine Lösung finden

II. A group member does not contribute to the project.

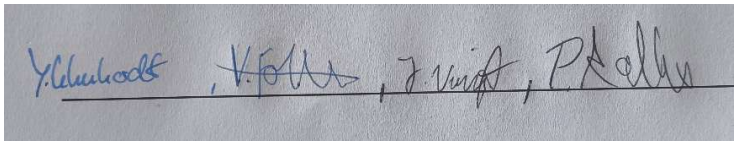
- Persönliches Gespräch suchen
- Falls keine Besserung: An den Professor wenden und melden → mögliche Lösung finden

III. A group member's behavior is alienating other group members (harsh criticism, making fun of contributions, offensive jokes…).

Beim ersten Vorfall: Grenzen setzen und an Kommunikationsregeln erinnern.

Beim zweiten Vorfall: In der Gruppe ernstes Gespräch führen.

Beim dritten Vorfall: An den Professor wenden und melden.

6. Signatures


All group members must sign the document: